

Leann Miles

My name is Leann Miles, MNsc, APRN, CPNP-AC and I am highly interested in becoming the next Allied Professional Representative for PACES. I am currently an Electrophysiology Nurse Practitioner and the APRN Assistant Director of Electrophysiology at Children's Mercy Hospital in Kansas City, Missouri. I have been a pediatric EP Nurse practitioner since 2013 and have dedicated my time to clinical duties and process improvement projects within our EP department here at CMH. Additionally, I have enjoyed being part of community interface projects including our recently launched chapter of Project Adam as well as participating in philanthropy initiatives in the Missouri/Kansas region. I am ready to expand my involvement to national committees and would love to be considered as the next Allied Professional Representative for PACES. My desire to pursue this position is related to bringing in a fresh perspective as well as a parent perspective as I have a 3-year-old with congenital heart defects. By combining these two viewpoints, I have developed a unique outlook into how to advocate for our unique patients and families. If I were nominated for this role, I would focus on the following three areas: recruitment and retention of allied health professionals to PACES and helping them to develop as leaders within the field, continuing to develop patient and family educational resources, and to act as a liaison between the physicians and the allied health members. Thank you for considering me as your next Allied Professional Representative.
